

U.S. Bishops' Statement on the Reception of Holy Communion

For Catholics

As Catholics, we fully participate in the celebration of the Eucharist when we receive Holy Communion. We are encouraged to receive Communion devoutly and frequently. In order to be properly disposed to receive Communion, participants should not be conscious of grave sin and normally should have fasted for one hour. A person who is conscious of grave sin is not to receive the Body and Blood of the Lord without prior sacramental confession except for a grave reason where there is no opportunity for confession. In this case, the person is to be mindful of the obligation to make an act of perfect contrition, including the intention of confessing as soon as possible (canon 916). A frequent reception of the Sacrament of Penance is encouraged for all.

For our fellow Christians

We welcome our fellow Christians to this celebration of the Eucharist as our brothers and sisters. We pray that our common baptism and the action of the Holy Spirit in this Eucharist will draw us closer to one another and begin to dispel the sad divisions which separate us. We pray that these will lessen and finally disappear, in keeping with Christ's prayer for us "that they may all be one" (Jn 17:21).

Because Catholics believe that the celebration of the Eucharist is a sign of the reality of the oneness of faith, life, and worship, members of those churches with whom we are not yet fully united are ordinarily not admitted to Holy Communion. Eucharistic sharing in exceptional circumstances by other Christians requires permission according to the directives of the diocesan bishop and the provisions of canon law (canon 844 § 4). Members of the Orthodox Churches, the Assyrian Church of the East, and the Polish National Catholic Church are urged to respect the discipline of their own Churches. According to Roman Catholic discipline, the Code of Canon Law does not object to the reception of communion by Christians of these Churches (canon 844 § 3).

For those not receiving Holy Communion

All who are not receiving Holy Communion are encouraged to express in their hearts a prayerful desire for unity with the Lord Jesus and with one another.

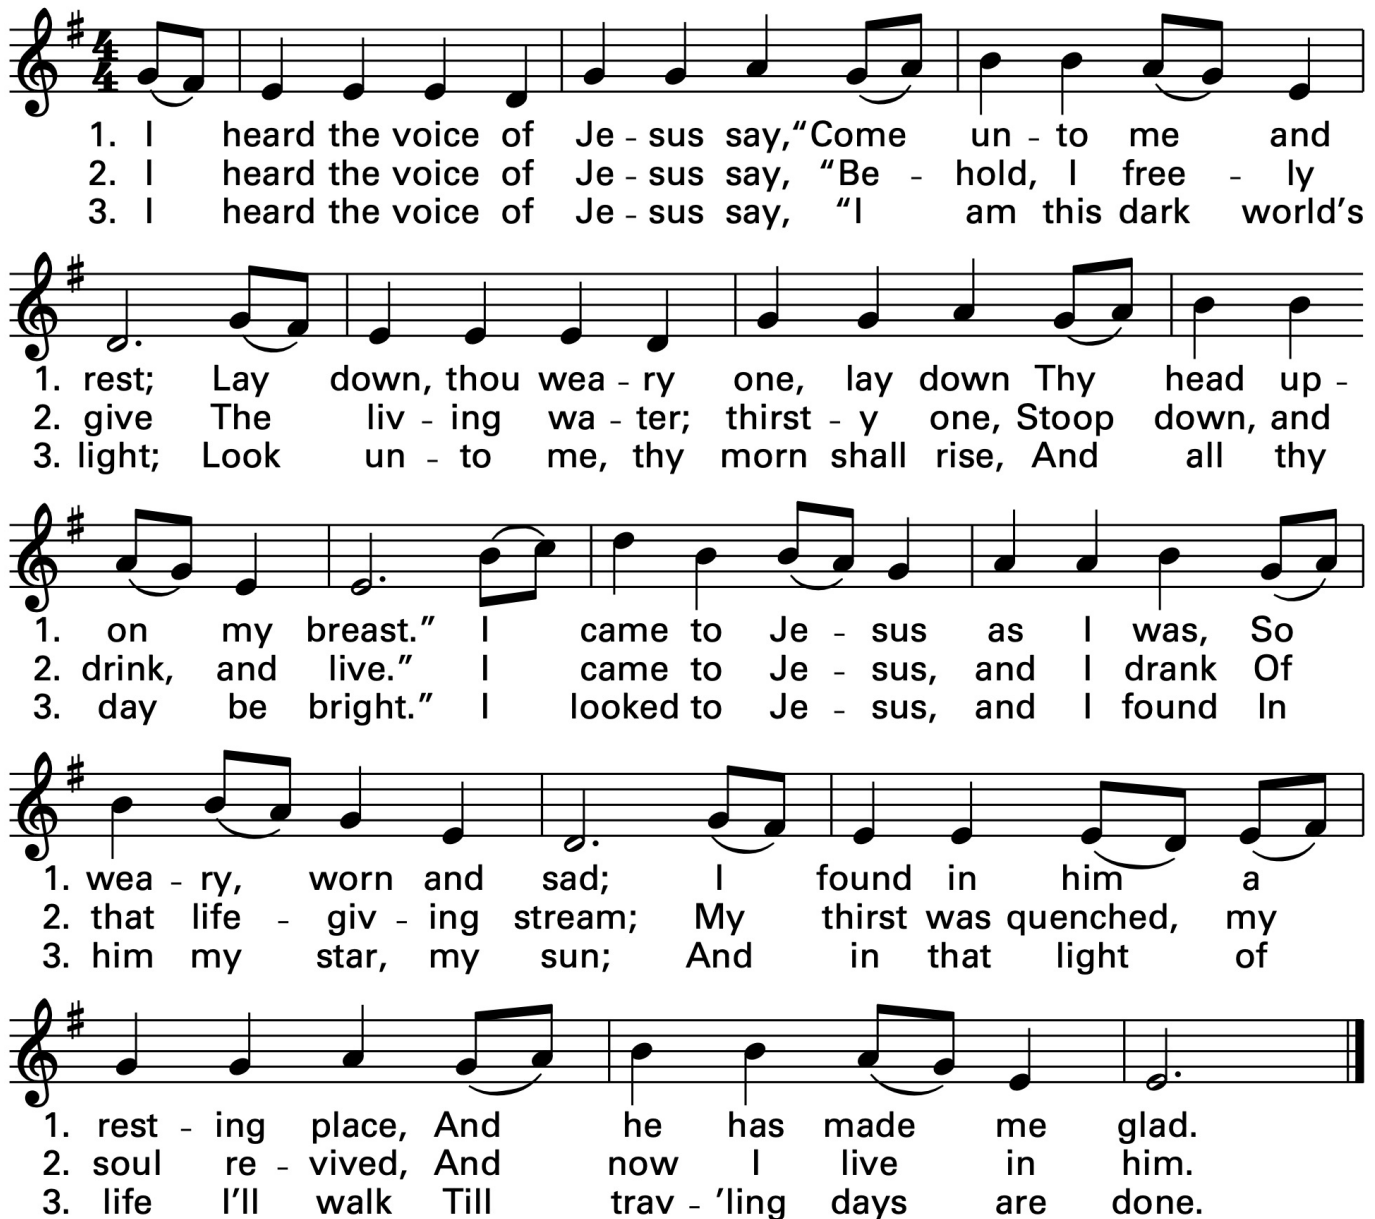

For non-Christians

We also welcome to this celebration those who do not share our faith in Jesus Christ. While we cannot admit them to Holy Communion, we ask them to offer their prayers for the peace and the unity of the human family.

SECOND READING: 2 Cor. 4:1-2, 5-7 (Read in Spanish)

Brothers and sisters, therefore, since we have this ministry through the mercy shown us, we are not discouraged. Rather, we have renounced shameful, hidden things; not acting deceitfully or falsifying the word of God, but by the open declaration of the truth we commend ourselves to everyone's conscience in the sight of God. For we do not preach ourselves but Jesus Christ as Lord, and ourselves as your slaves for the sake of Jesus. For God who said, "Let light shine out of darkness," has shone in our hearts to bring to light the knowledge of the glory of God on the face of Christ. But we hold this treasure in earthen vessels, that the surpassing power may be of God and not from us.

RITE OF ORDINATION

Election of the Candidates

One of the deacons calls forth the candidates for Orders. After the candidates have come forward, the Rector, speaking on behalf of the local Church, requests that the Bishop ordain these candidates. After the Bishop accepts his testimony, the congregation responds with assent to the choice.

The candidates are called by a deacon: Let those to be ordained deacons come forward.

Lizandro Jose Barba

Karl Richard Finkbeiner

James Dempsey Musgrave III

Daniel Sean Whalen

Each one answers: Present

When the candidates are in their places before the Bishop, the priest designated by the Bishop says:

Most Reverend Father, holy Mother Church asks you to ordain these men, our brothers, to the responsibility of the diaconate.

The Bishop asks: Do you know them to be worthy?

He answers: After inquiry among the Christian people and upon the recommendation of those concerned with their formation, I testify that they have been found worthy.

Bishop: Relying on the help of the Lord God and of our Savior Jesus Christ, we choose these, our brothers, for the Order of the Diaconate.

Congregation: Thanks be to God.

Homily

Promise of the Elect

Through questions, the Bishop asks the deacons-elect to declare before this assembly their intention to undertake the office of deacon. The office of deacon includes assisting the bishop and priests and serving the people of God. Each one of the elect goes to the Bishop, kneels before him, and places his joined hands between those of the Bishop. He then promises respect and obedience to his respective Ordinary and his successors.

Litany of Supplication (Please Kneel)

In the Litany of the Saints, the assembly appeals to God, to Mary the Mother of God, and to the Angels and Saints to remember and intercede for the elect.

[The elect prostrate themselves and the litany is sung; all respond. All in the assembly please stand.]

Laying on of Hands and Prayer of Ordination

In the laying on of hands, the Bishop invokes the Holy Spirit to confer the order of deacon on these men. In silence, the Bishop will lay his hands upon each of them. This is the most solemn moment of the rite. The prayer of ordination, very ancient in the tradition of the Church, recalls how all of creation is renewed through Jesus Christ and His Church. The prayer then invokes the Holy Spirit to strengthen the deacons for the work of ministry, so that they may excel in every virtue.

Investiture with Stole and Dalmatic - Psalm 84

The stole and dalmatic are signs of the office of deacon which these men now hold in the Church. By this investiture the liturgical ministry they will henceforth fulfill is outwardly manifested.

Handing on of the Book of the Gospels

The handing on of the Book of Gospels signifies that those holding the office of the deacon are to be heralds of the Gospel and are to preach the faith of the Church in word and in deed.

Kiss of Peace— Psalm 145

The Bishop and the other deacons welcome the newly ordained deacons with the sign of peace. This ancient gesture of Christian fellowship highlights the deacon's admittance into the order of deacon.
