A MESSAGE FROM FR. STEVE

Year of Prayer

As I mentioned last weekend, Bishop Boyea has announced a “Year of Prayer” for “Forming Missionary Disciples.” There are cards with this prayer at the exits of the church. The text of the prayer, which we will be praying at Masses in future weeks is the following:

Father, You invite each of us to share in the life and ministry of your Son, Jesus. Send your Holy Spirit to form our parish as a community of missionary disciples. Teach us how to hear Jesus, to love Jesus, and to share your gift of salvation with everyone we meet. Through the witness and intercession of Mary, guide me to deepen my commitment as a disciple of Jesus. Lead our parish to grow as an intentional community, committed to go and announce the Gospel of the Lord. We ask these blessings in the name of your Son, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Come Encounter Jesus

This Saturday (October 13th), we will have our next Healing Encounter. It is a time of praise, worship, prayer, and adoration from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the church. It’s a great opportunity to worship God and to open our hearts to have Him do healing work in us. Come, and bring others with you. Prayer teams will be available to pray for healing and other requests. Come, and invite someone to join you.

Lumen Veritatis

Next Saturday evening (October 20th), Sr. Stephen Patrick, O.P., will give our next Lumen Veritatis lecture, which is entitled, “The God Gene: Encountering Beauty In Molecular Biology.” Sister Stephen Patrick Joly, O.P. joined the Dominican Sisters of Mary, Mother of the Eucharist in 2005 and celebrated 10 years of religious profession this summer. This year, she was reassigned to Lansing Catholic High School where she is teaching Honors and General Chemistry. She is the superior of the Lansing Mission.

The evening will begin at 7:00 p.m. in Mercy Hall (127 Rumsey, please note the location change) with food, drinks, and fellowship. The talk will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by questions and answers. Please plan to join us. And bring a friend.

Pope Benedict XVI on the Current Cultural Crisis

In my homily last weekend, I quoted from Pope Benedict XVI’s Christmas Greetings To the Roman Curia (Friday, 21 December 2012). What follows is a bit of the speech, from which I excerpted some last weekend.

The Chief Rabbi of France, Gilles Bernheim, has shown in a very detailed and profoundly moving study that the attack we are currently experiencing on the true structure of the family, made up of father, mother, and child, goes much deeper. While up to now we regarded a false understanding of the nature of human freedom as one cause of the crisis of the family, it is now becoming clear that the very notion of being—of what being human really means—is being called into question. He quotes the famous saying of Simone de Beauvoir: “one is not born a woman, one becomes so” These words lay the foundation for what is put forward today under the term “gender” as a new philosophy of sexuality. According to this philosophy, sex is no longer a given element of nature, that man has to accept and personally make sense of; it is a social role that we choose for ourselves, while in the past it was chosen for us by society.

The profound falsehood of this theory and of the anthropological revolution contained within it is obvious. People dispute the idea that they have a nature, given by their bodily identity, that serves as a defining element of the human being According to the biblical creation account, being created by God as male and female pertains to the essence of the human creature. This duality is an essential aspect of what being human is all about, as ordained by God. This very duality as something previously given is what is now disputed. The words of the creation account, “male and female he created them” (Gen 1:27), no longer apply. No, what applies now is this: It was not God who created them male and female—hitherto society did this, now we decide for ourselves. Man and woman as created realities, as the nature of the human being, no longer exist Man and woman in their created state as complementary versions of what it means to be human are disputed.

But if there is no pre-ordained duality of man and woman in creation, then neither is the family any longer a reality established by creation. Likewise, the child has lost the place he had occupied hitherto and the dignity pertaining to him. Bernheim shows that now . . . from being a subject of rights, the child has become an object to which people have a right and which they have a right to obtain. When the freedom to be creative becomes the freedom to create oneself, then necessarily the Maker himself is denied and ultimately man too is stripped of his dignity as a creature of God, as the image of God at the core of his being. The defense of the family is about man himself. And it becomes clear that when God is denied, human dignity also disappears. Whoever defends God is defending man.

Sr. Lucia of Fatima

In my homily, outlining the spiritual battle we are engaged in, I also quoted comments that Cardinal Caffara made as he reflected on his early involvement with the Pontifical Institute for Studies on Marriage and Family that St. John Paul II asked him to establish. At the beginning of this work, the cardinal wrote a letter to Sister Lucia of Fatima through her bishop, since he could not do it directly.

“Inexplicably, since I did not expect a reply, seeing as I had only asked for her prayers, I received a long letter with her signature, which is now in the archives of the Institute,” the Italian cardinal said. “In that letter we find written: ‘The final battle between the Lord and the kingdom of Satan will be about Marriage and the Family.’ Don’t be afraid, she added, because whoever works for the sanctity of Marriage and the Family will always be fought against and opposed in every way, because this is the decisive issue. Then she concluded: ‘nevertheless, Our Lady has already crushed his head.’”

With gratitude for Our Lady’s Prayers and Protection, Father Steve
